Today is _____

It is a new beginning for us this week. Grade 7 learners are returning to school and we will now start work at school with them. We are all really excited. Hopefully we will see all of you soon. We have places to sanitise and we have to check our temperature each day using a thermometer. Bonnie and Angel Mam help us to do this each day. We also have new markings all over school to help us with social distancing. See you all soon.

Shark caught in sardine net at KZN south coast beach

By Se-Anne Rall      Jun 1, 2020

Durban - A shark was rescued after it was caught in a net in Ramsgate on the KwaZulu-Natal south coast.

According to the KZN Sharks Board, due to the restrictions imposed by the Covid-19 national lockdown and in accordance with lockdown legislation and regulations, all shark safety gear was removed on March 24.

Hundreds of residents gathered at the beach on Monday morning after sardine activity was reported in the area, at the weekend. To their shock, when they pulled in a massive netting of sardines, a shark had also become entrapped.

A group of men worked to cut part of the net in order to release the shark. No injuries were reported.

It's Finally Friday

It's finally Friday—I'm so glad.

It's been a crazy week.

I got chewed out on Monday,
and since then it's all been bleak.

I lost my lunch on Tuesday,
and a parent went insane,
which shocked me so completely
that I almost popped a vein.

I poked my eye on Wednesday,
and the nurse gave me a shot.

She sent me to the doctor
when I fainted on the spot.

On Thursday I was tardy
'cause I kinda overslept.
And the snack that I was craving
came up missing in a theft.

And so it's finally Friday.
No more pencils, no more books.
No more sitting in detention,
no more teachers' dirty looks.

By Friday I'm exhausted,
out of energy and breath.
But that's the day you'll hear me shout,
"Rejoice, TGIF!"

And twice a month on Friday,
I remember why I stay:
You see, I am the principal—
that's when I get my pay.
